SHANGHAI, Feb. 3.—Japan's embassy at Peking asked all foreign legations there today to urge their nationals to evacuate a wide area of north China, leading to belief Japanese military officials plan intensive bombing operations and extension of ground maneuvers in that area.

It was believed that 1,000 Americans, 1,500 Britons and 1,000 other foreigners are in the area affected by the new Japanese request. General evacuation of all foreigners in north China is considered out of the question, officials indicated, but it is believed possible to have isolated groups of United States and other missionaries withdrawn to safer points.

May Evacuate Hankow.
Officials also said American and British women and children may be evacuated from Hankow, which is expected to be a main target of Japanese aerial bombers.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Japanese forces from Tientsin to northern Shantung province occupied the port city of Chiaofoo last night after Japanese planes circled over the city, dropping pamphlets advising the inhabitants to offer no resistance.

At the same time, truckloads of other Japanese troops reached Peking from Tientsin and advanced guards occupied a bridge over eight miles from that city.

British Urge Arming Of Neutral Merchant Ships In Danger Zone

By KINGSBURY SMITH

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Bringing pressure on Premier Mussolini to aid in tracking down Mediterranean "pirates," Britain's government today urged that all neutral merchant ships plying that danger-laden sea be armed at once.

This proposal was made by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to halt the new outbreak of submarine attacks and was part of a five-point program handed by Eden to the signatories of the Nyon anti-pirate accord.

Seek To Avert New Crisis.
In concert with France, Eden brought pressure on Il Duce to help reinforce the Nyon anti-pirate pact. This was done in hopes of averting a new Mediterranean crisis. At the same time, the admiralty ordered the cruisers Southampton and New Castle, now en route to Valencia on Spain's eastern coast, to join eight British destroyers in preparing to attack any "phantom" submarines attacking British merchant ships.

Addition of the two cruisers and eight destroyers, Eden informed other Nyon signatories, will restore the British anti-pirate patrol fleet to its original strength.

The recent sinking of the British freighter Rindymon off Cartagena climaxed a situation in which three British ships and one Dutch vessel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Shutting off all debate, leaders of the conference of small business men today jammed through to approval more than 100 resolutions calling for assistance to small industry and condemning many of the New Deal recovery measures.

This was accomplished amid scenes of uproar and confusion, which became so bad that the police had to invade the floor and carry out two of the delegates, one of whom was A. S. Sauer, Philadelphia, who was ejected yesterday.

There was also some fist-swinging, although apparently without major casualties.

Cries of "railroading" and demands to be heard came from all parts of the auditorium.

Invoke Gag Rule.
Washington, Feb. 3.—Leaders of the administration-sponsored conference with small business men today invoked virtual "gag" rule in a determined effort to prevent a repetition of yesterday's uproarious session.

The convention began consideration of committee recommendations which touched on a wide variety of economic problems affecting small industries and commercial concerns.

First under consideration was the report of the committee assigned to the study of loans to the small business unit. It was recommended by the group that the government

Snowstorm Cause Of This Freak Rail Accident

FREIGHT ENGINE AND SNOW PLOW NEAR FOND DU LAC, WIS.

This freak accident, in which no one was hurt, is the result of the recent snowstorm near Fond Du Lac, Wis. A gondola plow went to the rescue of a jammed Chicago and Northwestern freight train. Heavy blizzard and high winds blocked visibility. The plow, propelled by another engine, hit a drift, glided under the front wheels of the locomotive and reared it in the 45-degree angle shown.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 3.—The death toll of the tragic crash of two big navy bombing planes in mid-air over the Pacific was raised to eleven today as Jesse Hanley Hester, radio man, died aboard a hospital ship.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 3.—Ten United States naval fliers were killed in a spectacular collision of two giant navy patrol planes high over the Pacific, navy officials announced today.

The twin-motored bombers, 11P3 and 11P4, each carrying seven men, crashed in full view of men-of-war engaged in tactical maneuvers 70 miles southwest of here last night. The 11P3 fell in flames after the impact. The 11P4 dove and crashed in the sea.

Four survivors were taken from the flaming 11P3; all of them severely injured. All on board the 11P4 were lost.

The collision occurred during a sudden rain squall.

Based on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, one of the several battleships and destroyers within sight of the crash, picked up the injured.

Four men were aboard the 11P3; three were killed and one was injured.

From the aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington took off in a search for wreckage and bodies.

Negotiations covering the past several months closed this morning when President Presley N. Jones made public news that the Georges Products company would locate here within a short time and would begin manufacturing costumes.

Jones said the plant should be in operation "within 30 days" at some site here. He said 30 may be employed at the start.

Industrial promotion groups of the junior chamber have been at work on the project for some time.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

Complaints are being made of the condition of North Crawford avenue. There are many ruts and holes in the street, which makes bumping driving.

New Castle paid office receipts for January were $2,553.55 greater than receipts in the corresponding month of 1937. Assistant Postmaster James C. Leslie announced today. Tabulating figures for the year's opening month, Mr. Leslie found that $16,765.83 was last month's total while January of 1937 produced $14,195.08. Officials termed it a "very substantial increase."

Heaved pavement signs are becoming numerous on the highways in this district. Freezing and thawing weather as experienced during the present winter is apt to damage paving considerably.

Picture Law As Industry Threat

Hearings Are Held On 44-Hour Week

Assertions Made New Law Will Drive Industry Out Of State

DECISION WILL NOT COME SOON

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 3.—Pennsylvania's controversial 44-hour week law was pictured today as a threat to the state's industrial life as hearings continued in Dauphin county court preparatory to a supreme court test of the act. With the completion of testimony by the Holgate Brothers Company of Kane, Pa., principal complainant, D. T. Mullane, president of the Business League of Pennsylvania, testified that he would be forced out of business if the act was stringently enforced.

Operators of a kind saw unit, which was described as a highly competitive trade, Mullane stated he "didn't know how he could comply with this law without going out of business." At present he has between 40 and 50 men on his payroll.

"To hire an extra man we would have to split wages between all the men," he testified before Judge W. C. Sheskey, of Gettysburg. "The men would be entirely out of line with competition from other states."

Under cross examination by Deputy Attorney General Edward Friedman, representing the commonwealth, Mullane admitted he had no special evidence to prove out-of-state competitors would enjoy an advantage of lower production costs over Pennsylvania firms.

Decision Delayed
Under a new agreement, arguments were consolidated to rush the case as fast as possible, but a new complication developed with the introduction of the proposal that a taxpayer suit be filed. It met with the approval of the court and all probability the new action will be filed within a few days.

The taxpayer suit, it was said, will permit introduction of testimony to show the general conditions and effect of the law. Friedman objected, claiming the new case would serve only to further complicate matters. As it is now, he said, he didn't believe the case would reach the supreme court.

At March of the earliest, and that in all probability a decision would not be rendered until next June despite all efforts to rush the case.

"The supreme court's January session has ended," he said, pointing out that the higher tribunal does not meet again until the March session in Pittsburgh.

The law went into effect, officially last December 1.

Five suits remain to be heard in the case.

SMALL BUSINESS MEN FRAME PROPOSALS TO PRESENT PRESIDENT

Transmission of the committee proposals to the conference is certain to precipitate a renewal of yesterday's tumultuous debate. It appears likely that the recommendations would be ratified substantially in their suggested form.

Conference Leaders.
Under the rules of the conference, the chairman of the various committees will carry the recommendations to the president. The following ten individuals were selected as the conference leaders:

D. E. McAvoy, New York City, architect; James Daly, Columbus, O., salesman; G. L. Roach, Danbury, Va., industry executive; W. K. Gunder, Chicago, N. C., mill operator; Bernard F. McLean, Dallas, furniture dealer; Wallace D. Kimball, New York City, machinery manufacturer; R. P. Hasty, Chicago, auto sales agent; Leslie E. Sanders, Orlando, Fla., newspaperman; Harold North, Cleveland, machine manufacturer; and Fred Rock, Cleveland, shoe manufacturer. Roth also is conference chairman.

Efforts to prolong the meetings for several days to afford study of regional industrial problems will be made by A. Barr Constock, a Boston lawyer. Constock suggested the delegates divide into sectional groups, one for each federal reserve district.

Many already have deserted the conference frankly discouraged over yesterday's hectic session which was climaxed by the forcible election of one delegate by a police squad.

Sentiment among the majority of those remaining is to wind up the meeting today.

Story Of Jonah Is Told By Evangelist

Evangelist Tubby gave one of his favorite messages last night at the First Presbyterian church, Pearson and Erie streets, entitled, "To Hell and Back in Three Days." He spoke of the story of Jonah.

The evangelist laid great emphasis on the tragedy of lives he had come in contact with who had refused the will of God in their lives.

At his invitation, the spacious hall was filled with earnest seekers and many knelt in deep contrition and confessed their lives to Christ. Among them was a large percentage of young people.

Tonight Mr. Tubby presents his thrilling prophetic message entitled, "The College of the Present World System." A big colored chart will be used to illustrate this message.

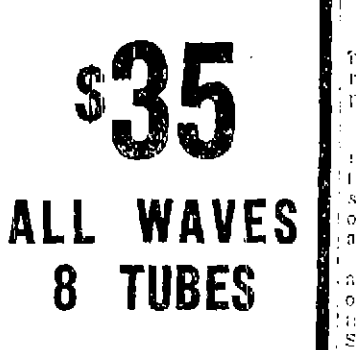

Rev. Boston W. Turner reports that the crowds are constantly increasing.

Apples for Gov. Lehman

"Apple Annie's" visit to Gov. Lehman at Albany, N. Y., bore fruit as the food will be distributed to the New York and New England Apple Institute presented him with a basket of the fruit. In the picture are Gov. Lehman (left), State Agriculture Commissioner Noyes, and "Annie," otherwise Louisa Hubbard, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

FACTS ABOUT INCOME TAX
WHO IS THE HEAD OF A FAMILY
A taxpayer, though single, who supports and maintains in one household one or more individuals who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal obligation, is the head of a family and entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person.

Also he may claim a $400 credit for each dependent, if such dependent person is under 18 years of age or is by reason of advanced age or poor health, mental or physical incapacity of self-support. For example, a widower who supports in one household an aged mother and a daughter 17 years old is entitled to an exemption of $2,500 as the head of a family plus a credit of $400 for each dependent, a total of $3,300. The $400 credit, however, does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

Several factors are involved in determining whether a person who files a return as the head of a family is to be thus classified. The element of either legal or financial dependency must exist. A taxpayer who supports in his home minor children over whom he exercises family control is classified as the head of a family, even though the children may have an income of their own sufficient for their maintenance. If he does not support them, by reason of their own income, but does exercise family control, he cannot be classified as the head of a family.

GIANT PLANES CRASH DURING SUDDEN STORM

were of the same type recently flown to Hawaii in mass formation.

Dead Or Missing
Admiral Claude C. Bloch, in a terse report of the disaster, listed the dead or missing as:

Lieut. Elmer J. Cooper, aviation cadet, commanding the 11-P-4, Monticello, Ark.
Irwin J. Koch, aviation cadet, Toledo, O.
Joseph E. Walton, machinist's mate, M. J. Fitzmaurice, machinist's mate, George G. Griffin, radio man, William Lindgren, machinist's mate.

Lieut. Clifton B. Hutchins, aviation cadet commanding 11-P-4, Albany, N. Y.
John G. Neidzicki, machinist's mate, P. W. Woodruff, machinist's mate, Julian Rawls, radioman second class.

Addresses of all the victims were given as San Diego.

Survivors
The survivors were:
D. B. McCoy, aviation chief machinist's mate, San Diego.
V. O. Hatfield, same rating, same address.
L. S. Carpenter, same rating, same address.

Jackie Hanley Hester, radio man first class, no address.
The two planes, huge twin-motored bombing patrol planes of squadron VP-13, were caught in a sudden rain squall during night maneuvers while participating in fleet maneuvers.

Following the crash, which occurred around 9 p. m. (PST) one of the planes, the 11-P-3, crashed in flames while its sister ship, the 11-P-4, plummeted into the choppy seas and disappeared.

The wreckage of the 11-P-3 was recovered as batteries of giant searchlights abated light nearby battleships and 20 destroyers played over the storm-tossed waters.

Admiral Bloch, in reporting the crash, said:
"While engaged in night exercises at 8:37 p. m., Feb. 2, patrol planes 11-P-3 and 11-P-4 collided in the air during a sudden rain squall in view of and close to several battleships and 20 destroyers. Plane No. 3 crashed in flames and No. 4 spun into the water and broke up."

"All vessels in the vicinity turned on searchlights and lowered boats. The Pennsylvania's boats recovered four survivors from No. 3 plane and put them on board the Tennessee, which proceeded at high speed to the hospital relief ship anchored off the San Clemente Islands."

Extent of their injuries was not known.
"Search of the sea will continue today in an effort to recover possible additional survivors."

First War Games Horror
The crash was the first real bit of horror of the war games in which the fleet was dealing with imaginary horrid created by a mythical enemy.

The tragedy came as a grim climax to a day of stormy weather with rain squalls and wind-chopped seas. The 11-P-3 and 11-P-4 were part of a number of many air units, numbering 267 planes participating in the maneuvers.

The planes were divided into two opposing forces for the war games when the crash occurred at a point over the tumultuous seas, said to be about 70 miles south and west of Point Loma, the outer fringe of San Diego harbor.

SMOKE SCARE
Five fire companies were called into action last evening, when fire was started in the Lummus at Goswami's bakery, 306 East Washington street, early last evening, and some one seeing the smoke, thought there was a fire. An alarm was sounded from box 31. No action was required of the firemen.

RECALL SHOP WORKERS
The Pennsylvania railroad here today summoned back to duty 50 shop workers who were temporarily laid off a week ago when the volume of shop work dropped sharply. Superintendent Norman M. Lawrence announced, Lawrence said they were recalled because shop work has increased again.

EQUALITY FOR WOMEN

THE cause of equality for women with men throughout the world has been given valuable aid by the League of Nations Council, which last week appointed a committee of seven experts to inquire into the status of women in all countries and to suggest means of equalizing their standing with that of men.

In a nation like the United States, where the differentiation between sexes is based largely on moral standards, it seems strange that the question of equality should be weighty enough to command the attention of Geneva. How important the problem is in other countries, however, is indicated by the following guarantees feminists hope to have incorporated in the League Covenant:

1. Member states undertake not to abridge or to deny the right to vote in their respective states on the ground of sex.
  2. There shall be no sex distinctions in law and practice regarding nationality.
  3. Men and women shall have equal rights in all other fields.
  4. Both men and women shall have membership with full voting powers in all delegations to the League Council and Assembly and at all conferences under League auspices.
- Leaders in this campaign have pointed out that they have made progress since 1930. Prior to that year, not one nation had been made in League discussions of the status of women, a subject which was recognized as highly controversial. At last September's Assembly, a proposal to establish the status of women was defeated after a discussion of four days, with delegates of 28 countries participating. Out of this discussion grew the decision to appoint the committee of experts just selected.

The experience of the United States should influence other nations to place women on an equal footing with men. Since the Nineteenth Amendment was passed, women have assumed increasingly important positions until now a woman is in the president's cabinet, others are sitting as judges or many courts and still others are leaders in fields once reserved to men.

In some nations, however, women are treated in such a manner that the sudden grant of equality might be disastrous to the nation and to the women themselves. In such nations, women are not prepared for equal status and would react similarly to slaves who suddenly are given their freedom and the right to act as men long free.

The task of the league committee is to find means of ending this distinction between men and women for equality. The abolition of the double standard will remove us further from customs of ages past.

LONG LIVE THE PRINCESS!

Holland, that snug, conservative little land of thrifty people, whirling windmills, innumerable bicycles and contented cows, and a land which has been so singularly successful in keeping itself aloof from the world's troubles, also has an empire upon which the sun never sets. It reaches down to the South American coast into the Caribbean, to Borneo and the islands of the South Seas. Throughout this far-flung realm there is rejoicing because there is a new heir to the throne. In accordance with the tradition of the Netherlands, the heir is a girl and her potential subjects will find no cause for complaint by reason of this circumstance. Under Queen Wilhelmina, infinitely capable and wise, Holland has done well, far better, in fact, than her larger and more ambitious neighbors yearning for a place in the sun.

The next ruler also will be a queen, Juliana, who, as a princess, has won the respect and the affection of her people. And so, with the birth of a little girl to the Princess Juliana, there is the possibility that the queen of the House of Orange will run into the third generation. The youngster is heir to a tradition of common sense, which is one of the most important assets a child can have in beginning the battle of life.

JAPAN IS BIG LOSER

The Panay damages are expected to come to $1,000,000 or $1,500,000. The Navy Department has been making estimates which include the value of the gunboat itself, all its furnishings and equipment, and the personal effects of the officers and men. To that sum will be added the damages now being listed by the State Department covering loss or injury to civilians and embassy attaches on board.

Only actual loss is counted. The government will ask no punitive charges at all.

That Japanese blunder has proven costly in money, but it is even costlier in the good will and foreign respect it blew to bits. Japan will be able to pay the damages demanded, but it will be almost impossible in this generation for her to repair the damage she has done to herself and her people.

The Parent Problem

BOY STEALS MONEY

"DEAR SIR: For a year or more our son, who was 11 in November, has been taking money, either out of his mother's or sister's purses, or if found lying out in the open he appropriates it. At first we had great difficulty in getting him to admit it, although we were confident he was guilty. After much quizzing and assuring him that he will not be unduly punished, the truth is told and he avows that he has been dealt with fairly and will not repeat the offense.

"This winter he has an allowance of 25 cents a week which he is allowed to use as he wishes, and he usually puts some in his bank. Still he has taken small change from his sister's purse, and when asked why he does it he answers, 'I don't know.' We tell him that he comes from a line of men who are honest, and since he is the last one to carry on the family name, it is his privilege and duty to keep it honorable. We call his attention to his father who has handled money in large sums for years and has a fine reputation for honesty.

Taught By Pat
"He was taught to do this stealing by a son of a good family who is a year older and who has been connected with various offenses in the village. I am enclosing stamped and addressed envelope for your reply."

Answer: As with practically all other children who steal, your son began the practice at home. He seems, fortunately, to have limited it to this place. Perhaps the other man's son began to steal for about the same reason your son began it. So you have preached to your boy and with much feeling and told him how he has endangered the family's good name. Perhaps you have compared him with his good sister. Undoubtedly he believes she is loved far more than he is, and what he believes is so for him.

Don't can do more. Let him win this boy's esteem; go places with him and be his good companion. Let him have the boy meet him down town Saturday each noon for lunch and a show or game in the afternoon.

Never bring up the past to this boy. Never have a trial again. If you cannot merely suspect he has stolen something, say nothing about it. Just protect him from further temptation, and show him more love and affection. Pray for patience and self-control.

WOMEN ARE BELIEVERS

Women may fuss and complain. They may go to pieces and cry and groan. But women are the True Believers.

They may lose hope and lose control of faith and joy for a little while, but life comes back to their streaming eyes and believe.

They go down into the depths. They wander in dark caverns unknown to men, and they seem forever lost. But they find a gleam of light, shining down to them through a tiny crevice in the rocks, and they follow that gleam and they climb upwards again—and come into the sunlight as calmly and as demurely as though they had been picking wild flowers in a sweet green meadow. Somehow, they are the True Believers.

I don't know why, but they are. Few men are so. A man thinks it all over or, at least, he thinks he does. He decides that all is lost for him, that he is defeated, that his high hopes are blocked and that the black clouds are gathering around his head and the poison of despair seeps into the secret places of his heart.

And what can a man do when fate or his own weakness stand in the way? Why be gloomy, of course. Bow his head and trudge! Shut! Shut! Shut! Be tough! Stick it out! Follow the grim logic of his own cynicism. Be a disappointed man to the grave. Stubbornly wait, that's a man!

But a woman is rarely like that. All she asks is a clue, a shred of a chance to be hopeful again and to believe in life. She is the True Believer. She may not know why she is so. Nobody knows.

It may be because she is the one who brings children into the world and sends the race onward into the veiled future. She feels a personal obligation, and she is the responsible one. A man may groan and give up and be fearful all the day, but a woman cannot afford such extravagance. She must make a little do and must make both ends of life meet in a gracious certainty that somehow, somehow, all will be well with the Children of Men.

That's what a woman is, a True Believer. And that's why, sometimes, a man envies a woman for being what she is.

The patient appeared surprised at the verbiage of the question. "Great Scott, doctor," he said. "Does it bother you that much?"

Answer—Neither. You should not link arms while walking along the street.

When you walk on dangerous paving—slippery surface or a badly tilted street, your future should offer his arm to protect you against tripping or falling.

When you cross the street, your fiancé might, if you require assistance, offer his arm to you. He should not take you by the elbow.

Trust Buster Behind Licensing. Price Regulation May Follow. Two Groups Will Push Plans.

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist

NEW NRA or trust busting? The trust busters seem to have won—lining up behind the Borah-O'Mahoney federal licensing bill for interstate corporations. The bill has plenty of teeth—and for that reason is being opposed by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Donald R. Flinchberg, last of the NRA administrators, however, has been urging a new "legal" NRA on President Roosevelt.

Robert H. Jackson, new "white hope" of the New Dealers and solicitor general, is for trust busting. He is supported by the liberals. In fact, even conservative Republicans support that—for the most trust busting of the past has been under Republican regimes, beginning with Teddy Roosevelt. And it has been popular without being "revolutionary."

But the Borah-O'Mahoney bill would be "revolutionary."

BOTH
If business sides much more, the government undoubtedly will step in with some new sort of inflation and a planned economy, to "control it," which means regulation of prices. Thus a federal licensing bill would not be enough. The cry for a modified form of an NRA would continue.

Thus, there is a likelihood that if anybody can put a clear-minded project before President Roosevelt, which would incorporate both, we may see a fight of planned economy and the breaking up of private monopolies at the same time. In other words, even if the president does support the Borah-O'Mahoney bill that is no indication he will not go farther. If a stronger plan is presented to him in concrete form.

Yet one must take this into consideration. The world trend is toward monopolies, not from them. The only question in the end may be: Shall they be primarily controlled by a few, or controlled by the government?

PERSONNEL
As for personnel, probably the best investment the government could make at the present time would be the training—free of hundreds of thousands of young persons in some specific vocation.

If "prosperity" ever returns—as it will—we shall continue to see multitudes of persons in relief and here permanent because they have no special training, or cannot be fitted into any place. And persons will be crying for men with specific training.

This is a major tragedy. It marks the degeneration of a people for a nation. Hardly anyone seems interested in it.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE COMMON PURPOSE

Why does this merchant try to sell his wares?

Why does the statesman fret over great affairs?

For pretty frocks and bonnets and for the

And all the comforts those he loves require?

Why does the sailor venture forth to roam?

To set the table for the ones at home?

Why does the workman at his lathe press?

To buy the child he loves another dress?

What is the dream which all are cherishing?

A home content, a garden in the spring.

There is no task, however great or small,

But holds the common purpose of us all.

These things called riches, strangled for and sought,

Are wanted chiefly for one single thought.

This single aim moves every worth while man:

To give to those he loves the best he can.

THURSDAY, FEB. 3.

Once upon Feb. 3rd—Twelve miles, the profession stood about, and secret schools refused to accept Elizabeth Blackwell as a student before students at Hobart College, Geneva, New York, forced the faculty to admit her. When she was graduated, the first woman M.D. in the world, her troubles were only beginning.

She was not admitted to practice in the dispensaries and hospitals New York then had. The doctors who had failed in their efforts to prevent a woman from getting a medical education, were determined to prevent her from using it.

She wrote in her autobiography: "The fear of successful rivalry which at that time often existed in the medical mind was expressed by the dean of one of the smaller schools, who frankly replied to the application. You cannot expect us to furnish you with a stick to break our heads with."

During these fruitless efforts to be admitted to a school, my kindly Quaker adviser, whose private lectures I attended, said to me, "Elizabeth, it is no use trying. They cannot gain admission to these schools. They must go to Paris and don masculine attire to gain the necessary knowledge. Curiously enough, this suggestion of disguise made by good Mr. Warrington was precisely the one which I followed in Philadelphia."

After she settled down in New York City and started building a practice:

"I had no medical companionship.

Three Youthful Holdup Men Are Held By Police

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—Three members of a gang who stood six Braddock taxi drivers against a wall at the point of a gun and attempted to relieve them of their money were in jail today after being taken into custody.

When the gang lined them up against the wall, one of the six taxi drivers, who said all were carrying large sums of money, began to argue with the leader. The other five joined in on the trio, and slowly forced them back toward the door.

Frightened, the three finally turned and ran into the arms of a policeman. The other two were captured later. They gave their names as J. C. Eastley, 19; William Connolly, 22; and William Houch, 21. Eastley said his father was a policeman.

Mothers! Penetro Helps To Ease Baby's Cold

Penetro is fine to help relieve baby's chest colds—it has an entire base of mutton suet—and 118% to 227% more medication than any other nationally sold salve for colds. You do not have to use or rub so much with Penetro.

Penetro melts swiftly as you rub it in—quickly it creates that warm counter-irritant action—bringing more blood to the congested area. How soothing the pleasing vapors are to the irritated membranes. No wonder Penetro is the favorite of millions in 47 Nations.

Penetro relieves local congestion—eases tightness of chest muscles—relieves night coughing and loosens phlegm due to colds.

Stainless Penetro is guaranteed. Money back if not satisfied. 35c jar contains twice as much as the 25c size. There's even greater economy in larger sizes. Sold by dealers everywhere. Demand and get Penetro. Take nothing else.

Baptist Church Is Packed Last Night

Crowd Hears Dr. Herrstrom Tell Of "The Coming World War"

"All Europe is an armed camp," Dr. W. D. Herrstrom of Akron, O., traveler and author brought here for a series of addresses by the Calvin Presbyterian congregation, declared to a huge audience in the First Baptist church Wednesday night.

Many congregations were represented by the audience which filled the auditorium, downstairs and balcony, and the Sunday school room.

Dr. Herrstrom spoke on "The Coming World War." He showed numerous stereopticon slides and motion pictures of the war in China and the bombing of the Panay.

He spoke of world conditions in the light of Bible prophecy. Prophecy, he said, mentions a war involving all nations, ending in the inevitable "Battle of Armageddon." After that, a thousand years of peace while Christ rules the world.

Dr. Herrstrom has agreed to extend his engagement at the Calvary church on the East Side through Sunday evening. His subject at 7:30 tonight will be "The World Menace of Fascism," with 100 stereopticon pictures.

was the beginning of New York Infirmary for Women and Children, the only hospital staffed entirely by women. There is 1865 was opened a medical college for women, the first in history.

Once Upon Feb. 3rd—1690—The first paper money issued in the English American colonies bore this date. It was put forth in Massachusetts Bay colony to pay a bonus to soldiers who were defeated. The troops had gone on an expedition to Quebec. The last skirmishes, never reached Quebec, and returned in empty-handed, half starving and in an ugly mood. The treasury of the colony was exhausted and there was no money to pay them. The soldiers began to fume, and the colony's council hastily had treasury notes printed and issued. Their value quickly depreciated one-half; the general court revived their credit by making them legal tender in all payments.

1809—Jacob Mendelssohn was born in Hamburg. He was only 17 years old when he wrote his immortal "Midsummer Night's Dream" overture.

1882—James Clark McReynolds, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, was born. Other notable birthdays today: Charles Correll, b. 1890, the Andy of Amos n' Andy; Gertrude Stein, b. 1874, surrealist writer, which means that nobody understands what she's talking about.

25 Years Ago Today—the 16th (Federal income tax) and shortest Amendment became effective, with ratification by the 36th State Wyoming. (When first enacted as a law, it had been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. So an amendment was framed to make it Constitutional. Only three states rejected it—Connecticut, Rhode Island and Utah. The first two have no state income tax today. In 1913 there were 357,536 returns filed; in 1935, there were 4,473,426 returns.)

Jerome Zerbe Carves Niche
In New York With Snaps
Of Night-Club Crowds

STOOGES ARE STILL NEEDED

BY O. O. MCINTYRE
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Jerome Zerbe, a silver-haired young man with a rather ad profile, has carved out a somewhat enviable metropolitan niche, snapping candid shots of the showy night club crowds. He is to "make society" what Cecil Beaton is to the international set. His field of action is El Morocco, which has the after-midnight popularity of the old Texas Guinan hangout, plus a bit of polish. There are waving white palms against a ceiling of Mediterranean blue, twinkling with O. O. McIntyre stars. Zerbe is responsible for the zebra decor of the wall seats. He is capitalizing on the New York reaction to polite snubbing—given in pot-luck photography. He trains his camera on only the whopping spenders, the milked and silk-hatted bads of frivolity along with the inevitable sprinkle of magnificent heels. Hot polloi thus in a twitch to be snapped. Zerbe came to town from Cleveland almost stone broke and majoring in rough going until he caught on with his pictures. Today all is changed. He has his duplex in the latest swish, a valet and a harem like living room filled with art and book treasures. Done during a depression!

The recession has not yet cast as its shadow the personal stories. Whenever Pammie Brice goes merry-making she takes along the owl-faced Roger Davis just for the laughs he provides—at least for her. The notorious Peppino is shared between Phil Plant and John Perona. Until his passing Steve Heardon, an ex-cop, often accompanied George M. Cohan on his more frivolous moments. But no one had so much fun with or made so much money out of stooges as the late Ted Healy. He often had a night out with his cane of rowdy hailequins, cuffing them just as he did on the stage. And enjoying it hugely.

Ted Healy had less of that quality dubbed "humor" than any performer I ever knew. He was—as his estate showed—not interested in the money side of acting nor in the fame that often accrues. He was a clown because it was fun and nothing else but a good time interest. He never used make-up and the clothes he wore on the stage were the same on the street. Yet he had his moments of arriere-pensee. Now and then people would recognize him wandering through the galleries and much of his $1750 a week salary went to buying beautiful flowers for those he admired. But he didn't want to be twitted about these sentimentalities. He preferred to be thought a shade on the tough side.

The new type of comedy has nothing of the heavy abandon and jovial rounhouse that characterized Ted Healy, Ed Wynn, W. C. Fields and other laugh makers. It is more a laborious and studious—the Stroud Twins and Oliver Wakefield, for instance. The effort is to puncture some person or institution in the manner of a Peter Arno cartoon without having the Arno riposte. Much is imitative of the English school of comedy. After all, there is still fun in the whack of the bladder and the zing of the slap-stick for those practitioners who know how to use them skillfully. Comedy doesn't need a full dress suit and a monocle.

Yet I wonder if I would roar today as I used to at Nat Willis with his ridiculous tramp outfit and blacked-out teeth. He had me on the edge of hysteria several times—especially when he would look about furtively, edge over slowly, talking swiftly all the while, and reach down for what seemed a lost coin. And then in utter disgust quickly wipe his fingers on his trouser leg.

Thimpu-bombs: James Gordon Bennett popularized the Pekinese, his favorite dog, in America. Bide Dudley was once an end man in a minstrel show. Strickland Gilliam, who makes a living telling funny stories, confines his reading almost solely to tragedies and poems of sorrow. Orson Welles, the 21-year-old wizard of the theatre, is a protégé of George Ade. Billy Gaxton, known as the stage's luckiest star, hasn't been able to find a suitable play for a year but he has a profitable perfume business on the side.

There was a swell candidate prospect for the League of Parsley Haters at the Serf Room last night. He not only snatched the sprig away and hurled it to the floor, but ground it in his heel.

Television Broadcasts On Way Soon

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES—The question most frequently asked, "When can we see the person broadcasting?" will be answered early this year by the Don Lee Broadcasting system here.

"Before long, we will transmit a number of our regular Mutual-Don Lee shows over television as well as over our usual system," said Lewis A. Weiss, general manager of the system.

"These will be released over our sight-sound television station, WEXAO in Los Angeles, simultaneously with their dispatch over the network.

"The development and construction of the new live-subject pickup equipment has been in progress since early in 1937."

To Use New Principles.

"The new apparatus will embrace during our seven years of television research," stated Harry R. Lubcke, director of television for the system. "In addition, the equipment takes on a new form in which the camera and camera-control units are completely mobile. This allows entry to any of our studios, or pickup or out-door scenes, according to our choice."

The complete channel comprises a pickup camera with new optical system and mounting, amplifiers, Don Lee scanning sources, new synchronizing circuits, image and waveform monitors, current control panel and power supplies. A mosaic type direct pickup tube of a large eastern manufacturer is employed in the camera.

A number of independent lookers have constructed cathode ray television receivers according to information here.

One of the most advanced of these, Roger Howell of Long Beach, has demonstrated his images to the city manager, the press and other officials of his city. His receiver is 20 miles from the Don Lee transmitter in Los Angeles.

Railroad Police Nip Bootleggers Of Stolen Coal

(International News Service)

STUEBENVILLE, O.—Bootlegging of stolen coal has been stopped here with the arrest of six men, railroad police believe.

The bootleg business had reached such proportions that the Pennsylvania railroad alone has lost several thousand dollars in this district recently.

The men arrested admitted hauling five and one-half tons of stolen coal on one day. The men were sentenced to terms in Jefferson county jail and fined.

Railroad police said they suspected at least another half dozen men as looters of railroad coal cars and were investigating operations of other gangs believed to be running stolen coal to unsuspecting consumers.

OIL KING'S HOME TO BE PARK LOT

Top, view of Rockefeller's home; below, Sander Vago lights last fire. Old Cleveland home of John D. Rockefeller, Sr., the late oil king, soon will be razed by wreckers to make way for a parking lot. The property, now in a run-down section of famous old Euclid avenue, was bought in 1885 by Rockefeller for $40,000. It had a tax valuation in 1917 of $323,800 but now is listed at $201,460. It will be razed for $225 a month for the bare land for five years. Sander Vago, artist, who has lived in the mansion for 15 years, is shown lighting the last fire in the once-famous home. The property is owned by a private holding company controlled by the children of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to whom he gave it as a gift, paying at the time $211,000 in gift taxes.

SEEK TO START WORK ON BIG STORM SEWER

Attention for details preliminary to starting out if the government will approve a bond project here.

Plan Early Conference

Following the discussion and appointment of council the city officials gathered around the mayor's desk and he asked them if they would stand behind him if a show-down relative to the Mercer street-Euclid avenue sewer was called. They promised to do so and he then advised his first move would be to ask for a conference with the state engineer.

The city engineer issued a release from damages from the experiences of Newburgh township for the building of the proposed large storm sewer, planned as an alleviation of surface water troubles in the North Hill district. The property-owners there have been said, want a satisfactory sewer.

If such were built it would increase the load of sewage to the city disposal plant, Engineer Glenn Throp said. Time and again Throp has asserted that any increase from outside districts would overburden the city sewage system.

He asserted today that it would not be wise to put in a sanitary sewer when the large storm sewer was built and after such explanation the city officials indicated they want the storm sewer built at once. This indicated the show-down will be put off, pending the conference with the supervisors, according to council. They agreed the storm sewer would be a benefit to the Euclid avenue-Newburgh township district, but if damages were sustained, such, if reasonable, could be taken care of.

American Library In Paris Is Aided By U. S. Donors

(International News Service)

PARIS—The American Library in Paris, which for years has been in financial difficulties and was even faced with closing down, is finally "out of the red" and even feels that its future is assured.

This salutary change in the library's situation has been brought about by life-saving cash donations and actual pledges by American organizations in Paris and prominent individuals of the American colony. The Carnegie Foundation tops the list with a gift of $25,000 which will be spread over a period of five years, and used for the purchase of new books and improvement of the library's equipment.

The announcement, which brings relief and satisfaction to thousands of American residents, students and tourists, as well as many French readers of English books and articles, was made by Joseph Du Vivier, president of the library's board of trustees.

WASHINGTON
AT A GLANCEPrices Trouble
AdministrationUnder-consumption Rather Than Over-Production
Blamed For RecessionPROFITS AND WAGES VANISHCentral Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Prices are too high. Few families are able to pay them. They have to skimp like everything. Consequently merchandise accumulates on retailers' hands. Naturally they cut down on buying, which means adversely upon wholesalers and basic producers.

We call it over-production, but it is not that. It is under-consumption.

Such is present-day White House reasoning, as clearly explained by President Roosevelt, to account for our current business recession.

We should deflate, in technical economic language.

HEADING TOWARD INFLATION?

Oh no, prices are not high enough. They are so low that capital refuses to invest itself in industrially productive enterprises; there is no profit in them. Farmers cannot sell their crops for enough to pay for raising them. Thus they (one-third of our population) are in dire straits, which makes hard times for everyone.

Most of our industrial magnates agree on this proposition, speaking for big business. Agriculture Secretary Wallace endorses it in behalf of the farmers.

That is to say, according to their reckoning, we should have inflation, or at least RE-inflation (up to highest past prices) to restore prosperity.

A CHANGE

In other words, the recession is due to too high prices or too low prices.

To some folk it may seem confusing.

Incidentally the whole Roosevelt administration initially was for higher prices, now, with some exceptions, like Secretary Wallace, it is for lower ones—an additional puzzle to figure on.

IMPOSSIBLE?

Anyway, the Rooseveltian philosophy recognizes that a slump in prices must not be accompanied by a slump in wages and salaries, or the two slumps will offset each other and there will be no up-tilt in buying power.

Industrialists testify that this is impossible.

For example, the United States Steel Corporation already has decreed a big wage slash for office workers. It doesn't seem likely that it would have done so at this political juncture if it hadn't been necessary for financial reasons.

President Harold G. Moulton of the Brookings Institution concurs that prices cannot be cut without wage cuts.

NARROW PROFIT MARGIN

These authorities generally are rated by liberals as reactionary, prejudiced, "not to be overly trusted."

Nevertheless there certainly are industries which operate on a narrow profit margin. If they have to cut wages, maybe they DO have to cut prices, to "break even." The railroads do, probably. Their past misdeeds unquestionably have a deal to do with their existing em-barrassments—but their past dates back two or three generations.

We are dealing with the 1870's; not the 1930's.

Electric utilities are more recent; nevertheless obsolescent, financially considered.

UNBROKEN

Speaking, as of today, prices rise, consumption is cramped.

If prices fall, production is cramped.

Wages ought to rise as living costs rise; they do not do it.

Purchasing power ought to rise as wages rise. That does not happen, either.

The balance is not maintained.

WORKER HIT

The worker is stung anyway. If prices rise sharply his employment lags.

If the subsidy he promptly feels the effect of it in his pay envelope. Big Business trims his pay anticipatorially.

City Anxious To Put Men To Work Here

Dunlap Wants Cascade Street Project Improvement Costs Divided

SIX HUNDRED MEN
WORK IN QUARRIES

Continued from page 1. Dunlap is anxious to construct a street sewer and improve Cascade street as soon as financial arrangements for the cost of the proposed improvement can be arranged. Streets Director William H. Dunlap, explained to a delegation from the Workers Alliance at the meeting at city hall today.

He explained that two industries own considerable land fronting on Cascade street and he does not believe that the work should be started until arrangements for dividing the cost can be made.

It was also explained that the city has plans for other projects, some approved and others awaiting approval by the WPA, which will result in the expenditure of a large sum. Weather conditions at present are hampering the work, Dunlap explained.

Dunlap stated that insofar as the street paving program is concerned, it already is under way because preliminary work is now being performed by 600 employees of the WPA who are securing stone from quarries.

Plan Large Expenditure
It was reported by City Engineer Throop that the city contemplates city-WPA projects which will cost $1,000,000, approximately, divided as follows: North Mercer street-Euclid avenue storm sewer, $154,000; C program, $255,000, and proposed D paving program and other improvements, $590,000.

Exonerates Mission
When council recessed after the city building council adopted a motion presented by Councilman Joseph D. Alexander which exonerated the Lawrence mission, Lawrence street, of the payment of taxes for several years amounting to $72.50. The building is used for religious purposes, it was explained.

City To Operate
Council voted favorably this morning in regular session for a motion submitted by Councilman William H. Dunlap whereby the city will cooperate with plumbers in relieving a storm water situation at the Leonardo home, Maitland street. It appeared that some years back, someone, unknown to the present council, connected the sanitary sewer of the Leonardo home to a storm sewer. Recently the storm sewer broke and water now flows into the cellar of the Leonardo home.

Request Paving
Property-owners of Huron avenue this morning presented to city council a petition which asked that the thoroughfare between Lathrop street and Arlington avenue be curbed and paved. The petition requests a stone foundation and a bituminous surface. The petition showed a majority in favor of the improvement.

Professor Tells Why 'Big Apple' Is So Popular

(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash.—The popularity of the "Big Apple" and other eccentric dances can be scientifically explained in the desire of the dancers to escape from reality, to "blow off steam" and to make an exhibition of themselves, according to the analysis of Dr. Edwin R. Guthrie, University of Washington professor of psychology.

All tendencies are natural and primarily wholesome, he added.

"When youth feels that the world no longer offers it economic security or the opportunity for success, it may attempt to submerge its own doubts in an endeavor to secure pleasure while it can," Dr. Guthrie said, explaining the first part of his thesis.

"Showing Off" Tendencies
Another reason for "Big Apple" popularity is that "as a nation we rather enjoy showing off to others, and what better way is there than indulging in dances which are exhibitionistic in nature?"

In addition such dances that indicate the "blowing off of steam," are examples of pleasures "that spring directly from within the dancer," Dr. Guthrie said.

"I'm all for such dances," he said. "They are infinitely better than the dreary circling of the ball room floor which often passes for dancing. The popularity of the Big Apple in America indicates a red-blooded race above all, and it is probable that such a dance could not have originated in any other nation which is considered civilized."

Arriving at the International Pan American airport recently, the genial, gray-haired, active, retired army officer, whom colonial experts credit with giving the island its best administration in many years, explained his travel record with: "When there is work to be done in Washington or New York, I go and get it done. Lolling in an arm chair in Puerto Rico never produced anything but more lolling."

For half a century, mothers have lulled their babies to rest with this old lullaby, and 1938 marks the 50th anniversary of its creation on a Winthrop porch by a Boston school-girl who had the song published under a fictitious name to avoid wrath of her parents.

Discovery of Mrs. Effie I. Canning Carlton of Boston as author of "Rock-a-bye Baby" came when Representative Laurence Connery, (D) of Lynn, filed a bill in Congress seeking reissuance of the song's copyright to her. The copyright had lapsed under a new law.

Ocean Treasure Hunting Is New Sports Hobby

(International News Service)
MIAMI, Fla.—There are hobbies and still more hobbies. Some men like golf, others fish and some hunt game.

But none of these satisfies the yearnings of Louis Nuta, Miami business man. He goes in for treasure hunting on the floor of the ocean.

"It's got all other hobbies skinned a mile," he declared enthusiastically as he displayed his trophies and outlined plans for another search beneath the waves.

Ten weeks, two of them apparently sunk in some lone forgotten naval engagement, have been located by Nuta as he prowled about on the bottom of the sea.

Old Cannon Found
In addition he has brought to light many relics of man's adventure upon the waves. Among them are two old cannons, one of them so covered with shells and coral that the metal is completely hidden.

Nuta also has two large anchors, one of them apparently from an old Spanish galleon. The wreckage of another old vessel near the spot where the anchor was found indicates there was once a fierce naval engagement at the spot.

Eight old wrecks were found in the vicinity of Pacific reef, and Nuta believes they foundered after running around many years ago.

Nuta locates the old wrecks from the air, and tosses out a buoy with a sand weight attached. Then he makes his way to the scene by boat and with his helpers searches the bottom of the ocean methodically. Rough weather of recent months has kept Nuta ashore but he plans to make another excursion, within a few weeks in an effort to bring back more relics from the deep.

President Sees Hope Of Early Adjournment Of Congress

Program Has Been Submitted

No New Major Measures Are To Be Presented. It Is Emphasized

NATION MAY GET "BREATHING SPELL"

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Roosevelt has informed congressional leaders that the path is clear for early adjournment of Congress, which would give the nation a "breathing spell"—it congress digs in and completes its work.

With the administration's legislative program virtually complete and no last-minute major measures planned for submission to Congress, the chief executive believes Congress should adjourn long before the end of the session.

On the basis of reports from House leaders, Mr. Roosevelt has come to the conclusion that the House will complete its legislative calendar by March 15. Adjournment then, he holds, will be up to the Senate.

While Mr. Roosevelt has emphasized to leaders that none of the major measures had before Congress has been abandoned, he forces no real obstacle to early action except the Senate filibuster on anti-lynching legislation.

Legislative Program

The legislative program now includes the $800,000,000 naval expansion program, tax revision, wage hour bill, government reorganization and regional planning, with creation of a joint congressional committee to investigate anti-trust laws and monopolies slated to be added.

In his talks with legislators, Mr. Roosevelt has insisted that Congress enact legislation for minimum wages and maximum hours. Defeated in the special session, the wage-hour bill now is resting in the House.

House leaders have informed the president they will seek action on a wage-hour bill through the rules committee.

The revision, delayed beyond expectations in the House, may be passed by that body and sent to the Senate by March 1. Passage of the $800,000,000 naval program is slated during February, while House action on regional planning legislation is uncertain.

The Senate, still in the throes of a filibuster against anti-lynching legislation, faces a legislative jam which may delay Mr. Roosevelt's hope for an early adjournment.

The governmental reorganization bill will follow the anti-lynching bill in the Senate. The Senate finance committee must await House passage of the tax bill before it can consider this legislation. Final passage of a tax bill through action of both branches upon a conference agreement, is expected next week.

The status of the measure proposed by Senator Glass (D. of Virginia) to abolish bank holding companies was uncertain. The proposal still is under consideration by an inter-departmental committee.

In an effort to speed adjournment, House leaders have decreed passage of a major appropriation bill each week until all 10 of the departmental bills, which make up the budget, are planned.

AROUND CITY HALL

Rain today will prove an aid to the department of streets. Some of the dirt which has through unavoidable circumstances collected on thoroughfares will be washed away. During the past several days the employees of the department have washed streets. It will not be long until the spring thaw arrives and the department will use what ashes are left to fill holes in dirt thoroughfares. Engineers of the department are now working on street paving plans. It is anticipated to start work as soon as possible.

Burgess Thomas Bishop of New Brighton has requested liquor vendors to attend a meeting when an attempt will be made to close such places before 2 a. m. This movement has been launched in several cities and towns. The Burgess believes midnight is sufficiently late for such places to keep open. This proposition was discussed here two years ago. However, no action resulted.

House leaders have informed the president they will seek action on a wage-hour bill through the rules committee.

U. M. W. Severs Link To A. F. Of L.

Expect A. F. Of L. To Respond By Reading Miners Out Of Federation

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 3.—The American Federation of Labor, whose last link with the United Mine Workers was severed yesterday in Washington when the Joint L. Lewis Union amended its constitution to substitute C. I. O. wherever the designation A. F. of L. appears, was expected to return the compliment today by reading the miners out of the Federation.

The matter will be decided when the Federation's three-man "peace" committee headed by George Harrison, makes its formal report to the executive council. Although it was reported in some quarters that the committee might recommend peace overtures to the rival union, general belief was that a permanent rupture would be sought.

Though under suspension, the miners' union still is technically affiliated with the A. F. of L.

President William Green of the Federation declined to indicate what policy would be followed.

Green administered another rebuff to the International Federation of Trade Unions by declaring the A. F. of L. will "feel compelled to withdraw" from that body if it admits the Red Trade Union International. Russian trade unions, he held, were not free unions in the sense that trade unionism is understood in Democratic countries.

Seek To Check Movement For World War Pensions

Administration Fearful Of Huge Drain On Treasury Through Pensions, In Future

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Fearful of a huge future drain on the treasury through general world war pensions, the administration moved to check a powerful house movement for the passage of a bill.

The measure, providing widows pensions of $22 a month regardless of whether the veteran suffered in the service, was reported by the pension committee in spite of an adverse budget bureau report.

Estimated to cost $48,000,000 the first year, it all the 188,000 eligible widows of veterans.

Officials said the cost would rise rapidly in the future as the death rate of veterans increases.

"Advice has been received from the acting director, bureau of the budget, that the proposed legislation would not be in accord with the program of the president," said Mr. Gen. Frank T. Hines, veterans bureau head, in a letter to the committee.

Hines charged that granting of general pensions would reverse the policy established by congress in dealing with disabled World War veterans. Congress, he said, sought to avoid a general pension system.

"Even assuming that the rates were more in accord with long-established precedent, it is evident that any proposal to grant non-service-connected death benefits on account of service in the World War should be viewed with concern," said Hines.

He pointed out that congress had sought to evolve a system of compensation for World War veterans who incurred illness in the service, and provided vocational training and war risk insurance—all designed to avoid "the disadvantages of the pension system" as it existed prior to the World War.

He also pointed out that congress provides aid for widows and orphans if the veteran's death was due 20 per cent to service-connected causes.

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. But, if you are cross and always tired out, men won't like you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. They want girls who are full of pep.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening discomforts from the functional disorders which women endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Pinkham's Compound, made especially for women from Nature's wholesome herbs and roots, has helped women for over 60 years.

Make a note NOW to get a bottle today WITHOUT FAIL from your druggist—let Nature help you be the lively, peppy girl you should be.

His sentence time came around and he was among the missing. His bondsmen lost their $1500 and the case was forgotten for the time. In 1930 the gentleman returned to New Castle and was sentenced to three months in the county jail. On Wednesday a representative of the man came to the court house and wanted to know if he could get the $1500 back. The answer was no.

Stencils for the street lists are coming through rapidly and Registrar Thomas Edmunds is getting them mimeographed. After seeing how many copies of the street lists are turned out, one wonders if it is necessary at all or if it is why one set wouldn't be sufficient. Or if it is necessary to get out a street list at all why one time in the year instead of four wouldn't be sufficient.

The painting in County Solicitor Joseph H. Hartland's office has been completed and the office is the better for it. For a few days the paint fumes will bother the employees but once they are out the office will be the second best looking in the court house. The commissioners' office is the first in appearance.

Under a ruling of County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., the sheriff will be given a per diem allowance for feeding prisoners. Mr. McElwee is of the opinion that the law calls for such an arrangement and within a short time a per diem allowance will be set for Sheriff Ingham. Other sheriffs submitted their bills to the county commissioners and they were paid. With the inclusion of the present board some question was raised by the commissioners as to money being spent and the argument ended in court, where a per diem allowance was set. Ingham has been working under the old arrangement since being inducted but the per diem allowance will be put on.

Citizenship Class Will Start Friday

Class To Be Conducted In Mahoning School; Other
Classes Are Open

Works Progress Administration Adult Education and Recreation department announces the opening of a citizenship class to be held on Friday evening from 6:30 to 9:30 at the Mahoning Junior high school. Citizenship has become an increasingly important requirement for those who need to obtain work in industry, business and emergency relief work. For this reason, W. P. A. Adult Education is establishing a class which will enable aliens to become citizens of the United States.

There is a tendency to raise the requirements for naturalization and it is important that those wishing to obtain citizenship papers make a serious and conscientious effort to understand the customs and laws of the country. The mere answering of questions committed to memory is not enough. Naturalization officers require a more complete understanding of the duties and responsibilities of American citizenship.

The classes in citizenship and literacy are free to all who wish to attend.

Mechanical Drafting
W. P. A. classes in mechanical drafting are open to the public at North Street school on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. Registrations may be made any of these days. Classes are free to all.

Woodworking Classes
Woodworking classes at North Street school are attracting considerable attention. These classes are open every night of the week and are conducted by the Works Progress Administration, Adult Education Division. These classes are held from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m.

DAD-SON DINNER SET FOR MARCH 1

New Castle's community fathers-sons dinner at the Cathedral will be the evening of Tuesday, March 1, instead of on February 24. The Townsman, young men's civic group, is sponsoring it.

The original date, Chairman John R. Hedges explained, was abandoned when it was learned that February 24 is the only night President B. F. Fairless of the U. S. Steel corporation would come here for a banquet which the Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring. The Townsman willingly changed their date to clear the way for Mr. Fairless' committee.

Westminster Tops Pitt Panthers In Great Battle 41-38

Paul Backus Wins Game For Titans In Final Moments Of Play

Andy Demo Proves Sensational With 20 Points; Spotovich Best For Pitt

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—Thanks to a sensational one-handed shot by Paul Backus, center, Westminster college today held a surprise 41-38 win over the Pitt Panthers. The shot, coming in almost the last minute of play, broke a 38-38 tie.

It was the Titans' first win over the Panthers since the present series opened in 1934. Leading scorer of the game was Andy Demo of Johnstown, who netted 20 points. He was closely followed by Eddie Spotovich, Pitt's guard, with 16 points. Backus was third with seven points.

Play Tight Game
The two teams played the tightest floor game seen at the Pitt stadium this year. The score was tied no less than 12 times in the battle. At the last the teams were deadlocked at 38-38.

One incident stood out quite prominently in the game, and that was the fact that the Titans did not make a single solitary replacement during the entire game. Which in view of the fact game played today, as remarkable. While Demo and Backus grabbed the spotlight roles, acclaim was given to Miller, Patton and Krivosh for their ruggedness and stamina.

Titans Take Lead

Demo was the first to score in the game and Spotovich followed for one for Pitt to tie the count at 2-2. Backus put the Westminster into the lead with a field goal and four as he fouled by Garcia as he raced into the basket for his shot. Johnson and Garcia talked points to make it 5-5. Pitt broke the 14-14 tie six minutes before the first half ended with a fielder by Zelenik. Garcia was removed from the game when he committed his third personal foul by Dr. Carlson.

Pitt took the lead after the start of the second half at 27 to 23, but the Titans were not to be throttled. Radivsky and Garcia both returned to the game with the second half exactly half over. But soon "Bugs" Radivsky had to go to the showers when he fouled Mel Miller, the New Brighton boy. At this point Pitt held a three-point edge at 38 to 35.

Backus Wins Game

Demo's ninth field goal of the night tied the count at 38-38, with three minutes left to play. Backus broke the tie in the final minute of play when he pushed through a one-hander from under the basket. Both teams missed many shots in the final few minutes in their anxiety to score. Shaver, a Pitt sub-fouled Backus and the last Westminster jump-up man made the game sure for the boys of Washbaugh.

The big delegation of fans from New Wilmington were wild when the game ended. Backus and Demo were lionized by the fans.

And still we say—"It's the clothing you get that counts."

"Whizzer" White May Take Offer And Become Pro

(International News Service)
BOULDER, Colo., Feb. 3.—Byron (Whizzer) White is definitely interested in the offer of the Pittsburgh Pirates to play pro football next fall for a $15,000 salary.

The Colorado university star who was named on practically every all-America team for 1937 said today he had asked Art Rooney, president of the Pirates, for more time to consider the offer. The $15,000 salary is said to be the largest ever offered a pro football player.

If White accepts the Pirates' contract he will forfeit two years' study at Oxford under a Rhodes scholarship.

No Change In Trout Season

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—There will be no change in the opening date for trout season this year, Fish Commissioner C. A. French said today.

As in past seasons, followers of the trade of Isaac Walton will be permitted to cast flies on the morning of April 15, first legal day for snaring the speckled beauties.

Recently the fish commission sent "letters" to various sports organizations in the state, sounding out sentiment by delaying the opening date until May 1.

"Replies from the various nimrod clubs were overwhelmingly in favor of retaining the present opening date," French said.

"The fish commission has been trying to every way possible to satisfy fishermen when it comes down to rules and regulations. The commission feels that the majority should rule and the result of the probe was that fishermen wanted the trout season to remain as in the past. Therefore there will be no change in the opening date this year."

Presenting the South Bend angle games were two of the strangest contests in the football career, he said. He brought out the fact that the team didn't seem to know where it was. He asked about the "dope" on the Pitt-Notre Dame situation, what caused the breakage, he said he only heard that the Layden-Sutherland incident, which dates back to the days when Layden coached Duquesne, was actually responsible. He was told that Jim McGoldrick was named to succeed him. Shellenberg said that McGoldrick was nominated at the time he was elected.

Al Schacht Is Highest Paid Baseball Man

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Who will be the highest paid man in a baseball uniform this year? Lou Gehrig? Joe DiMaggio? Bill Terry? Joe McCarthy?

Oh, no, none of those. The lucky man is Al Schacht, baseball's famous clown.

Al revealed today that he will do his stuff before 130 games in the two major and 38 minor leagues this year for which he will be paid on a guarantee and percentage basis something in excess of $45,000.

"The only reason I won't make $100,000 this season," Al said, "is because I can't play the 300 games that have asked me to appear. Last year I made over $12,000 net in only 47 games."

Al is going south soon to get in shape for his strenuous season.

Three games were played in the New Castle Church League at the "Y" last night. In the first game the Second U. P. team folded up to the First Presbyterians 26 to 17, with Tommy McCormick, McGregor, Knechen and McKee the scoring stars.

The third game found the Epworth M. E. team in combat with the First M. E. team and taking a 28 to 21 victory. Meermans, Davis and Wainio led the scoring.

Cubs Made Dodgers Best Offer For Van Mungo, Report States

Offered Five Players And $75,000 In Cash And Was Turned Down

Cardinals Would Have Parted With Warneke, Pirates Would Have Given Waner

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Amazing though it may seem, the Brooklyn club turned down an offer of $225,000 in player-values and cash from the Chicago Cubs for pitcher Van Mungo, the writer learns today on the very best of authority.

From the St. Louis Cardinals, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants came offers of approximately $200,000 in players and money and these offers were declined.

They were turned down, the writer learns, because the new business manager, plans either to get out of sixth place, without Mungo, or stay there with him, and nothing in any of the offers was a guarantee of a higher position.

Cards Made Offer
The Cubs through Clarence Rowland, offered the men and a check for $75,000. The Cards offered anybody, except Joe Mauer, and a check for an unnamed amount. Specifically, pitcher Lou Waner, first baseman Johnny Mize and outfielder Poppe Martin were mentioned as "trade possibilities."

The Pirates placed in nomination one competitor, star outfielder Paul Waner, an accomplished pitcher and a very valuable check, possibly as much as $25,000. The Giants, interested largely in keeping Mungo away from the other contenders, countered with catcher Gus Mancuso, pitcher Hal Schumacher, outfielder Wally Berger and cash, possibly more than $50,000.

Offer Turned Down
Briefly, the Cubs topped every other offer and still lost.

Their best, and probably their final proposition, called for the pitcher Louie from first base of the 1937 season after his team, New York, lost last year's pennant. The Cubs also offered a $25,000 bonus to the winning pitcher, but need to enter private affairs.

Hunters Must Hand In Reports Of Kill

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The state game commission today announced that all hunters must submit a report of their kill for the 1937 season by Feb. 15.

The report should be submitted to the nearest game warden or to the state game commission. The report should include the name of the hunter, the date of the kill, the species of the animal, the location of the kill, and the method of the kill.

LOU GEHRIG WILL LEAVE HOLLYWOOD

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The Yankees today received a new letter from Lou Gehrig, stating that he will leave Hollywood and return to New York to play for the Yankees.

The letter was dated Feb. 2 and was addressed to the Yankees' general manager, Ed Barrow. It stated that Gehrig had decided to leave Hollywood and return to New York to play for the Yankees.

Gehrig had been in Hollywood for several months, working on a movie. He had been offered a contract by the Yankees to play for them in 1938, but he had been unable to decide whether to accept the offer or to continue working on the movie.

Now that he has decided to leave Hollywood and return to New York, the Yankees are expected to sign him to a contract for the 1938 season.

Ice Carnival Craze Has Hit New York City

Fight Business Is Backed Off Boards By Sonja Henie And Her Skaters

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The late Tex Rickard probably never dreamed the day would come when the fighters would have to play second fiddle to a lot of ice skaters and ski artists.

Yet, such is the case, and the fight promoters are the first to admit it.

Today there are more fighters than ever willing and eager to play their trade and yet Madison Square Garden will have a shorter fight season than ever before.

Ice carnivals of various kinds have used up the dates the fighters used to have.

Sonja Draws Crowds
Strange as it may seem, there probably will not be more than six fights staged in the Garden between now and the end of the indoor season.

The gorgeous Sonja Henie completely sold out the Garden last week and so there was no fight. Another ice carnival or two also will cut in on the fighters and the circus will run the mitt slingers away for six weeks.

Promoter Mike Jacobs has only two or three open dates available before the fighters move outdoors but, to make up for the lack of indoor shows, he probably will stake more outdoor extravaganzas.

Galeotti Vs. Thomas
Jacobs has Galeotti and Thomas set for February 18; Joe Lewis and Nattie Mann for Feb. 23; Buddy Baer and Gunnar Barlund for March 4; and probably will put Max Baer in with Tommy Farr or Jimmy Adamick March 11.

He is trying to slip in a fight April 1 before the circus arrives to stay well into May.

Before the ice and snow craze hit the country, the fight promoter could count on a weekly Garden date from late September until the circus arrived in April or May. Now he has to give way before all kinds of ice carnivals.

THREE GAMES AT FALCON HALL ON SCHEDULE TONIGHT

Three fast basketball games are carded for tonight at the Falcon hall. It was announced by Eugene "Gabby" Kendra, the energetic business manager and star forward.

The first game will send the St. Nicholas girls into combat with the Lyndora Sokols girls team at 7:15 o'clock.

The St. Nicholas boys will play the Lyndora Sokols boys in the second game, which should be the best game of the year, as the Lyndora team is highly rated. In the third game the Polish Falcons will meet the fast Ambridge A. A. made up of former high school and college stars.

This will be the feature attraction on the night's program. Friday the Poles will play the All-quippa Celtics and the Keystone will meet the St. Patrick's of Youngstown. Sunday the Poles will go to Warren, O., to meet the fast Delta club.

KEYSTONES WILL

The Keystone A. C., New Castle's leading semi-pro basketball team, will play the fast St. Patrick's of Youngstown, at the Polish Falcon hall Friday. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock and will be a preliminary to the Falcon game.

The Ohioans have a fast quintet headed by their star, the former coach of the team, who will be Coach Andy "Goose" Vanderhoff. He has a patched up lineup, but hopes to upset the invaders from over the line.

All players are asked to take notice that the game is Friday and not Thursday as originally scheduled.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—A glance at the roster of the Washington Nationals gives an idea of the grief that Bucky Harris faces this year. There is one pitcher on the staff who won more games than he lost last year—Monte Weaver—and when the analysts consider that Weaver won only 12 games, they are not likely to give Griffith's aggregation much of a chance to crash into the first division.

Either Wes Ferrell or Jimmy DeShong may pitch his way into the position of leading hurler. Ferrell is 30 and is capable of a comeback. DeShong is 27 and has it in him to be a star.

None of the other regulars seems likely to bloom and only into a Grover Alexander. They are Ken Chase, Elton Hoesett (from the Browns), and Pete Appleton (Jablonowski). Chase showed a whole lot of stuff last year as a beginner, and much better is expected of him.

There are some intriguing youngsters listed on the pitching roster. Take Joe Krakauskas for instance. Here's a six-foot southpaw who won 14 against nine losses at Trenton last year. The big boy from Canada may be just what the Senators need to beat, among others, the Yankees.

Inasmuch as Chase and Hoesett are the only other southpaws on the club, Krakauskas has a very good chance of surviving the late spring pruning. He looked very capable in a Washington uniform during the last few weeks of the 1937 season.

Better Than Rated
Hoesett is a man who was very much missed at St. Louis. The big Indian did so much bull pen duty with the Browns under Hornsby that he was tired nearly all season. With a few days of rest, he'll approve that record of six wins and 19 losses. Bucky had him at Detroit, and knows the chief can be a winning pitcher with the right kind of handling.

Ray Phebus, a seasoned right-hander who came up from Chattanooga last year, turned in some brilliant jobs. Phebus is 28, and showing up a bit late, but he has made good use of his minor league experience.

The mantle of relief hurler probably will be worn by Emil (Dutch) Leonard, of whom you have heard before as a Brooklyn pitcher. His knuckleball has been a mainstay of his career, but last year he went very well for Atlanta. His knuckleball should provide some refreshing variety in the American League, anyway, where fast-pitch ball and curve seems to be the principal pitching strategy.

Win 26, Loss 1
Washington will have one of the best prize rookies in the person of Joe Kohnman, six-foot, 24-year-old right-hander up from Jake "Powers" Kohnman, who played in the "miracle team" at Salisbury, N. C. Kohnman played a

Shooting Match Here On Friday

It will be New Castle Rifle club versus East Palestine, O., at the Caledonia range here on Friday night at 7:30. A full attendance of the local club membership is asked.

NONPAREIL SHOOT
Rod Davis with a string of 193 was high man in the semi-weekly shoot of the Nonpareil club at the west side range. Second high was shot by Karl Rohrer with 192.

There will be a shoot tonight at the range at 7:30 o'clock and a big turnout is looked for.

Other scores: Adams 188, Gillich 186, Shaw 185, Davis 184, Chisholm 178, Wood 175, Grodecour 173, Forrest 173, Utch 171.

Promising Freshman Cagers At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 3.—Four of the most promising cagers among Coach Washburn's Westminster Titans are from the Pittsburgh district: three freshmen, Black, Valicenti and Lindsay, and Meider, a sophomore.

Perry Black, Brentwood, won two letters in basketball and three in football in high school, and a Titan letter this year on the gridiron. He plays both the zone and man-to-man types of basketball.

At Lindsay, Aspinwall, an all-around WPAL selection season for two seasons, although small, is a clever passer and ball handler, and an elusive man to guard. Tony Valicenti, smallest cager on the squad, is only five feet three inches in height. In Meider, Lindsay and Lindsay, won WPAL recognition in both football and basketball, and as a Titan back

News Man Finds More Lawrence County Folks Down In Balmy South

In his strolling around down in St. Petersburg, Fla., J. P. Caldwell, of The News, staff has discovered more New Castle and Lawrence county residents who are enjoying the winter months of the northland. Here is his latest accounting of the downings of the New Castleites:

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 1, '35
Mr. George W. Conway, City Editor News, New Castle, Pa.
Dear George:
Mr. and Mrs. Everett Book, a bride and groom of recent date, arrived in St. Petersburg on their honeymoon last week. They stopped with Mr. Book's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clements of New Castle, now located at 144 South avenue, North. Mr. Book is a son of J. Andrew Book of Shippen Rock town, Pa., formerly of the Pennsylvania State Game. His bride was Miss Mary Kins, a trained nurse, whose home is at Westford, Crawford county, Pa., but who has made her home on North Jefferson street, New Castle, for the past two years. They came here by way of Harrisburg, where they attended the farm show. They also attended the Tampa fair while here.

Going On South
From here they will go to visit the Ringling art gallery, and winter quarters of the Ringling shows at Sarasota, there to Miami and up the east coast. From West Palm Beach they expect to cut across to the Bok Tower and Orlando.

Mr. Book is one of Lawrence county's enterprising young farmers, having charge of his father's big fruit farm in Shippen Rock township. While in Florida he is making a study of oranges and grapefruit, with a view to crossing them with apples and developing a new kind of fruit.

Mr. Book believes that in these times of uncertainty and doubt, the best opportunities for young men and women are to be found on the farm. There are no worries over the unemployment problem. There is always something to do, for the farmer who is willing to work.

McCaslin Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. W. D. West and W. D. West, Jr., of McCaslin, on the New Castle-McCaslin road, are here for a two-months' sojourn. They are located at 5214 Guilford boulevard. Mr. West is an auto mechanic at McCaslin, where his father, Thomas D. West, runs a general store. On the way down Mr. and Mrs. West visited Mr. West's grandmother, Mrs. Charlotte West, at Reading, Pa.

West, who learned to fish in the Shippen Rock, and who never caught anything bigger than a black sucker, or an eight-inch bass, is going to try his hand at deep sea fishing. He has been down to the Gulf port wharf, where the fishing boats come in, and his enthusiasm has been run up to the seventh degree. These boats with three or four amateur fishermen on board, bring in anywhere from 500 to 1000 pounds of fish.

Bill has been doing some fishing with rod and line, and has made some mighty good catches, but he won't be satisfied till he sells the big one. So it's ship away and to Ho, for collecting Bill, the sailor.

Have Remodeled Home
Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen, who reside between New Castle and St. Petersburg, are located in their own home at 1034-10th Ave., North. Mr. Allen was formerly in the grocery business in New Castle, at what is now the Ace market on North Mill street. He and Mrs. Allen began coming here a number of years ago, and liked it so much they purchased a property, and spend about half their time here. They have had their home re-modeled since coming down this winter. While the work was in progress they went down to Fort Meyer and killed a few weeks. They have a little orange grove on their place, and when their New Castle friends visit them they let them pick a few oranges. Most visitors here deem it a great privilege to be permitted to pick oranges from the tree. They like to tell their friends of the thrilling experience when they go back home. Anyway there is a natural human instinct that seems to be gratified by the opportunity, as when a hunter shoots a rabbit or a woman gets her hat on straight.

Keep On Move
W. D. Walton and his sister, Mrs. Mayne of Shippen Rock township and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Aiken, formerly of New Castle, but now of Sharon, seem to be gravitating toward St. Petersburg. First they went to Ft. Lauderdale, then to West Palm Beach, and now they are at Lake-

Muscular
- Rheumatic Pains
It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly. Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

When I called upon them at 11 o'clock last Sunday morning I found Summers still in bed. The maid rapped on his door and called that a Mr. Caldwell was to see him. Pretty soon he called, "Come on up, Bill." As I responded I called that it wasn't Bill, but his father, but he was glad to see me just the same. "When the maid announced that Caldwell was here," he said, "the first thought that popped into my head was that we could have a game of golf. You see, I played once with Bill and Bart Richards at Eagle's Mere, Pa."

Have Narrow Escape.
Explaining why he was in bed at 11 o'clock Summers said he and Monsey had been playing golf every day since they arrived and were pretty well tuckered out. Monsey came in while they were talking. He had been out absorbing the sunshine and listening to the mocking-birds. Their most thrilling experience on the way down, they related, was at St. Augustine, where they visited an alligator farm. Monsey came near furnishing breakfast for an alligator over 500 years old. Summers had a narrow escape from an ostrich. The big bird had its mouth open not six inches from his head, though it was a coconut, perhaps, but Summers ducked.

Near Shipwreck.
And speaking of thrilling experiences, Llewellyn Preston and W. B. Caldwell were cured last week of any further hankering for a seafaring life. They joined a party of 81 tourists for a boat trip to Sarasota. About half way over a storm came up. Soon the boat was being tossed about like a chip. It began to look serious and the passengers were ill-furnished with life preservers. By that time half of them were seasick and were going through the usual gymnastics. The trip was abandoned, and the boat headed back home, but it took four hours to dock, which but for the storm would not have taken over half an hour. Preston and Caldwell were so badly scared you couldn't pull them up another gang plank with a team of oxen. However, the captain refunded their money, so that they had their scare free.

Late Arrivals.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ringier are among the latest arrivals from New Castle. Mr. Ringier is connected with Sees, Roebuck and company, and Mrs. Ringier is on a sight-seeing trip. They went down the east coast to Miami and up the west coast to St. Petersburg.

William Duncho is another New Castleite who arrived in the Sunshine city last week. He's out for a good time, Duncho-know, and is having it.

Mrs. Ritchie, wife of D. M. Ritchie, South Mill street undertaker, with her nephew, Eugene Burford of 726 Arlington avenue are here for a short visit and are stopping at the Phel hotel. This is Mrs. Ritchie's third visit to Florida. Last winter she and Mr. Ritchie were at Miami. Mr. Ritchie is expected here one of these days.

Ellwood City Folks.
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Santis and Aliqui Santis are among the latest arrivals from Ellwood City. They say to tell the folks back home they are too busy to write anything but are too busy to hold a reception when they get home and tell their friends all about the trip.

Former District Attorney Mont L. Alley and Mrs. Alley, who have been sojourning here, continued on their way to Miami this week. Before leaving they attended the Tampa fair, and while in Tampa visited Mr. and Mrs. Ira Cox of 209 Fairmont avenue, New Castle, who are wintering in Tampa at 113 North Boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Cox are accompanied by Mrs. Cox's sister, Mrs. Maud Lamb. Mr. Cox is a retired employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stone of Boykes avenue, New Castle, are among the latest additions to the shuffle board club at Mirror Lake. Mr. Stone is going to make a try for the championship class.

land, some 52 miles east of here. Walton and Aiken imagine they are shuffle board players, but seem to be getting trimmed wherever they go, which is the only theory on which I can account for their moving around so much.

There is an old men's class that might take them in if they decide to come here. And speaking of Lakeland reminds me that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips and Robert Garvin of New Castle, who are wintering at Lakeland, were over here last week killing a few hours with Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Eike and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clements. I don't know what they talked about but don't imagine it was important. Conversation here hardly ever is. But if ever you've been away from home, say, Parkstown, Corners, or Pumpkintown, you know how glad you are to meet somebody from the old home town. It's a great chance to gossip about the people you know with no danger of their finding it out and breaking your neck.

Over At Orlando
E. E. McGill, of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, who is wintering at Orlando, writes me that George Ferver and Thomas Hitchcock arrived in Orlando from New Castle last week. Mrs. Ferver came down a month or so ago with the children, who are in school there. Mr. Hitchcock, who runs a market at the west end of the Grant street bridge, is on a flying trip through Florida, leaving Ferver at Orlando, he went to Miami, and from there will come to St. Petersburg, where he will visit Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chapman, and other New Castle friends. Ed Chapman seems to be quite a landmark for New Castle visitors. He has been here so often that he knows all the points of interest, and insists in taking his friends around for their first view of the city. He and Mrs. Chapman always have something in the ice box, orange juice and grapefruit, for instance.

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson of New Castle, who has a beautiful home and extensive realty holdings in Orlando, has also arrived for the winter.

Golfers Hit City
Frank C. Summers, of Reynolds, Summers and McCann company, of New Castle, and Dyke Monsey, golf pro at the New Castle Field Club, are here showing the tourists how to play golf. They are located at 540 4th St., North.

When I called upon them at 11 o'clock last Sunday morning I found Summers still in bed. The maid rapped on his door and called that a Mr. Caldwell was to see him. Pretty soon he called, "Come on up, Bill." As I responded I called that it wasn't Bill, but his father, but he was glad to see me just the same. Paris millinery continues high and off-the-face. These are some of the names indicating the style "they" are now wearing: Phrygian bonnet, pillbox, box, brim, this with long fringe (mimicking) hat and position—the latter like a coachman's hat of course.

HALT THAT COLD!

Put the Brakes on It Fast With This Four-Way Treatment!

No cold can be given an inch! The more rope you give a cold, the more you do to hang yourself! No cold is a "light" cold. No cold can be ignored or neglected. The cold that is pock-pocked today is the cold that takes a serious turn tomorrow.

Deal with a cold in a business-like manner. Treat it for what it is—an internal infection. Treat it with a cold medicine not a cure-all.

The Treatment That Answers!

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) are what you want for a cold.

They are expressly a cold treatment, and not a "cure-all."

They are internal medication. Bromo Quinine tablets do four important things in the treatment of colds.

First, they open the bowels.

Second, they check the infection in the system.

Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack.

Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets are nothing new or untried. They have been in use over 40 years and are the largest-selling cold tablet in the world.

That, in itself, is enough to assure you of their efficacy and dependability.

Play Safe!

The moment you feel a cold coming on, do the wise thing. Go right to your druggist for a box of Bromo Quinine tablets. Start taking the tablets immediately and you'll usually break up the cold in 24 hours.

Bromo Quinine tablets come in 36c and 60c sizes. The 60c size is the better "buy." It gives you almost 20 per cent more for your money.

Ask your druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) and insist upon getting what you ask for. It's your money you're spending!
